Real Tour Vision(TM) Announces New Full Service Virtual Tour Provider in Grass Valley CA

GRASS VALLEY, CALIFORNIA, February 4, 2008 — Top Hat Video Productions has recently partnered with Real Tour Vision(TM) (RTV), the world's largest and fastest growing virtual tour software company. Top Hat Video Productions offers state-of-the-art interactive 360 virtual tours to businesses and real estate professionals in Northern California. While the backbone of the company is driven by RTV technology, the company also offers search engine optimization and distribution services with weekly virtual tour detailed traffic reporting, which places virtual tour listings on over 100 national Internet portal websites including Google Real Estate, Zillow, Trulia, Craigslist and more.

Top Hat Video Productions has been locally owned and operated by Randy Jackson for over six years. Originally established to specialize in wedding videography and website/print design, the company publishes only the highest quality products.

Jackson stated "Northern California was very receptive to my business model. The first summer in business was extremely productive. Having just gone through the process of choosing vendors for my own wedding day, I was frustrated for two main reasons: 1) as a professional myself, I could not find a videographer that met my expectations in quality and design. 2) For the quality being offered, vendors were more expensive than they should have been. It was then that I decided to start Top Hat Video Productions. The amount of referrals that I received and simple word-of-mouth advertising kept us very busy. The word spread so quickly about my high quality service at an affordable price, that I could barely keep up. We soon found our business expanding rapidly. We are very excited to be able to now offer our interactive virtual tour service to Northern California."
